SERIES NOTES

- The Storm has not dropped a game against the Stars in more than a full calendar year. Its last loss to the team came on June 14, 2016, when the Storm fell 77-70 in San Antonio.
- This contest will in part be a battle against University of Washington standout Kelsey Plum. Plum earned the John R. Wooden Award for most outstanding women's basketball player last year.
- Jewell Loyd will face her former Notre Dame teammate, Kayla McBride. Both players are leading their respective teams in scoring. Loyd is ninth in the league with 17.5 points per game, while McBride puts in 16.0 per affair. The duo went 1-2 for the Fighting Irish in scoring in 2013-14 on the way to leading the team to a 37-1 record and NCAA runner-up finish.

2017 RESULTS VS. SAN ANTONIO

Seattle 80, San Antonio 87 - AT&T Center (8/5/17)

The Seattle Storm (10-15) finished off its back-to-back series against the Texas teams with a Saturday night showdown against the pesky San Antonio Stars (6-21). After falling behind by as much as 18 points, Seattle battled its way back to force overtime, eventually losing 87-80. San Antonio showed why it has been trending in the right direction as of late. The Stars had 10 different players tally at least two points and got 25 points from its group of reserves. Breanna Stewart notched her second 30-point game of the season, finishing with a season-high 32. Jewell Loyd shot her way to 16 points, including the three ball that forced overtime with just over five seconds left. Sami Whitcomb topped double figures off the bench for the third time in her young career, accumulating 11 points, five rebounds, four assists and three steals. San Antonio built a 22-18 lead after 10 minutes, despite 10 points from Stewart. San Antonio scored the first seven points of the second until Sue Bird found a diving Alysha Clark for an easy lay-in at the cup. An end-of-the-shot-clock trey from Shay Murphy pushed the silver and black advantage to its highest point of the first half, 43-27. Loyd hit a three just before the buzzer to make the halftime score 48-36 San Antonio. Dearica Hamby scored 10 first half points off the bench, putting her behind only Plum's 13 in the first half scoring column. San Antonio was boosted greatly by seven offensive rebounds in the first 20 minutes. Stewart knocked in a midrange J at 5:32 in the third to give her 12 straight games with at least 20 points. Whitcomb provided a much-needed spark in the third quarter. At the end of three quarters, the Stars clung to a 63-55 edge. After a frenetic end to the fourth quarter, Loyd tied the game at 72 on a three pointer from the top of the key. San Antonio failed to score on its final possession of regulation, and the game pushed on into a five-minute overtime period. Whitcomb struck first in overtime by nailing a three to put Seattle in front 75-72, its first lead since being up 2-0. The scoreboard read 78-78 with two minutes remaining in overtime. Plum then sent home a momentous three to put San Antonio in the driver's seat. The Storm never recovered from there, as free throws helped San Antonio seal the deal and earn its first three-game winning streak since 2014.

Seattle 75, San Antonio 57 - KeyArena (6/18/17)

Today marked the first time that former University of Washington Husky Kelsey Plum played in Seattle since her collegiate career came to an end. She left with a bad taste in her mouth, as the Storm turned in a complete game on both ends of the floor, beating the San Antonio Stars, 75-57. Breanna Stewart filled up the box score all night, finishing with a career-high five blocks to go along with 22 points and 15 rebounds for her 15th career double-double. Crystal Langhorne scored 10 points for the second straight game, and Sue Bird captained the offense on her way to nine assists. The Storm (6-5) opened the game by playing swarming defense, forcing San Antonio to turn the ball over three times in the game's first five minutes. Alysha Clark scored six early points while Bird dished out three assists, giving the Storm a 10-5 lead and forcing San Antonio head coach Vickie Johnson to call her first timeout at the 5:29 mark. The second year forward anchored a defense that held San Antonio to just 11 points in the second quarter. The Storm took a 37-26 lead, its biggest of the half, into the locker room. San Antonio converted on just four of its 16 field goals (25.0 percent) in the second quarter. Langhorne was Seattle's leading scorer with eight points at the break. Seattle missed its first four shots of the second half, allowing San Antonio to claw its way back to within six points (37-31). Stewart quelled the comeback by scoring eight consecutive points to give Seattle a 45-33 lead just over halfway through the third. Whitcomb slithered her way through San Antonio's defense for a layup that pushed Seattle's lead to 51-36 with 1:54 on the third quarter clock. San Antonio again managed to make just four field goals for the second consecutive quarter. Ramu Tokashiki sank a mid-range jumper to extend Seattle's lead to 15 with 7:41 to go. Following an emphatic block by Stewart on the defensive end, Bird led a fast break that ended with her hitting a 15-foot jump shot to stretch the gap to 19.

Seattle 85, San Antonio 76 - AT&T Center (6/6/17)

The Seattle Storm kept San Antonio winless on Tuesday evening, as Breanna Stewart led five players in double figures with a season-high 22 points en route to an 85-76 victory over the Stars on Tuesday at the AT&T Center. For Stewart, it marked her second 20-plus point performance of the season, as she went 12-for-14 from the line and pulled down a team-high eight boards. Alysha Clark netted 17 points on 6-for-9 shooting, while Crystal Langhorne added 14 points and seven rebounds. Sue Bird registered 10 points and nine dimes, and Jewell Loyd logged 10 points and six assists, including dime No. 200 for her career. Although the Storm led by as many as 21 in the second half, the Stars (0-8) got as close as six in the fourth quarter. Fortunately, the Storm outscored San Antonio, 48-32, in the first and third quarters combined, and that ultimately proved to be the difference, as well as a 23-9 edge at the charity stripe. The first quarter featured four ties before Seattle mustered a 10-2 run to take a 21-14 lead at the 1:48 mark. The Storm held the Stars to a 1-for-7 clip during the run. Seattle ultimately went into halftime with a 10-point (43-33) lead. Kayla McBride tallied 14 points and hit six of the Stars' 15 field goals. In the third, the teams traded baskets before Langhorne made it 51-39 Seattle at the 4:44 mark. Early in the frame, Loyd dished to Stewart for the jumper to notch her 200th-career dime. Bird dropped a wrap-around to a cutting Clark for the banker, Ramu Tokashiki netted two at the line and Clark swooshed a corner three before Loyd made a buzzer-beater to cap a 9-2 Storm run to end the quarter. Loyd's dime to Carolyn Swords extended Seattle's lead to 21 (72-51), but San Antonio fired back with eight unanswered to cut the margin to 13 (72-59). Moriah Jefferson later led an 8-0 Stars run to cut it to six (75-69). Langhorne scored back-to-back buckets to push it back to 10 (79-69), and the Storm managed to hold off San Antonio down the stretch.

LAST GAME

Seattle 62, Minnesota 61 - KeyArena (8/16/17)

In the final game of a trio of matchups against the Lynx, the Storm saved the best for last, handing Minnesota its fifth loss of the season in a 62-61 contest Wednesday night. Crystal Langhorne sealed the deal for the Storm, scoring the go-ahead bucket with 11.1 seconds to play. Seattle then held Minnesota on the other end of the floor, in a fitting show of defense, as the team held the Lynx to just 61 points on 33.3 percent shooting. D both season lows for the number one team in the West. Jewell Loyd led all scorers with 16 points, Langhorne added 14 on 7-for-9 shooting and Stewart recorded a double-double with 12 points and 11 rebounds. Noelle Quinn dished out five assists while only turning the ball over twice. With about a minute to play in the second quarter, Loyd grabbed an acrobatic rebound and led a blistering fast break, driving and kicking to Quinn, who then made an extra pass to Breanna Stewart. The sophomore forward then knocked down the open three to take a 36-31 storm lead. D the eventual score at the half. Alysha Clark dialed up a three from deep to take a 47-45 lead. The Lynx answered with a bucket, but on the ensuing Seattle possession Langhorne executed a deft spin move in the post and finished a layup to grab a 49-47 advantage. Natasha Howard scored twice inside as the third quarter wound down. And the Lynx took a two point, 51-49 advantage into the fourth quarter. Neither team began the final quarter hot from the floor. The only made field goal in the first 2:55 of the quarter came from a Moore layup. But a four-player Storm substitution changed that, and baskets by Loyd and Langhorne tied the game at 54 and ignited a KeyArena crowd. Minnesota Head Coach Cheryl Reeve had to call a timeout. Stewart grabbed her 10th rebound of the game with 3:44 to play to record her eighth double-double of the season. Moore dispossessed Clark on the following possession, leading to a loose ball tussle and an eventual Storm shot clock violation. On the other end, Moore drained a three. The Lynx took a 59-56 lead with 3:04 to play. Clark was fouled hard on a drive to the basket with 1:30 to play. She converted both of her attempts to bring the hosts within one, 58-59. On the following possession, Moore was granted an opportunity after her team earned an offensive rebound, and she connected on a jump shot to reclaim a three point lead with exactly 1:00 to play in the game. Loyd brushed a layup off the glass to cut the lead to one once again. Then, Seattle stepped up on defense and forced a shot clock violation. The score was 61-60 with 21.5 seconds to play and Minnesota held the lead. Loyd darted to the rack and her shot was blocked, but Langhorne was right there to collect the ball to finish the go-ahead layup.

PREVIOUS GAME

Seattle 98, Phoenix 89 - Talking Stick Resort Arena (8/12/17)

The Seattle Storm (11-16) made its only trip to the desert this season, playing a Saturday night road game against the Phoenix Mercury (14-13). Seattle was playing its first game under interim coach Gary Kloppenburg, and the Storm responded with one of its best offensive outings of the season, winning 98-89 on Phoenix's home court. The duo of Breanna Stewart and Jewell Loyd combined for 40 points, with each player scoring 20. Crystal Langhorne flexed her way to 19 points on 8-for-9 shooting numbers. Alysha Clark played one of her best games of 2017, putting up 13 points, five rebounds and a 15 +/- rating in 21 minutes of playing time. Seattle's bench exploded for 23 points on 8-for-16 shooting, led by six points each from Kaleena Mosqueda-Lewis and Sami Whitcomb. Four players dished out five assists for the Storm, marking a franchise first. Stewart gave Seattle its first points of the second frame with a pull up jumper at 7:07. layup at the quarter's 4:43 point to give the road team its biggest lead of the half (46-40). At halftime, the teams were deadlocked at 53. Seattle put on a shooting display, making 55.6 percent (20-for-36) of its first half field goals. Seattle stacked up 15 assists on its initial 20 made field goals. Clark rattled home a three early in the third quarter, serving as Seattle's first points of the second half and snapping a streak of seven misses in eight shots. Taurasi buried a shot from three-point range four minutes into the third quarter, raising the Mercury lead to a game-high seven points (66-59). The Storm answered with a mini 7-2 run to get within two points as the third quarter clock melted away. Ramu Tokashiki knocked home a jump shot to supply Seattle with a four-point lead (72-68) in the quarter's waning moments. Three fourths of the way through the game, Seattle had a 78-74 lead. Mosqueda-Lewis sank Seattle's 10th three of the night to push the Storm's lead to seven. On its next possession, Stewart banked in a leaning shot in the lane, extending the lead to nine (86-77) and capping an 8-0 run. That run would grow to 10-0 before Taurasi put a stop to it with a baseline J. With five minutes to go Seattle owned a 90-84 edge. Phoenix went scoreless until the 44-second mark, at which point Seattle had a 98-87 lead. The Mercury mustered two more garbage time points before the game ended, with Seattle on top 98-89. The win at Talking Stick Arena was Seattle's first road victory since July 1.

LAST GAME VS. TONIGHT'S OPPONENT

Seattle 80, San Antonio 87 - AT&T Center (8/5/17)

The Seattle Storm (10-15) finished off its back-to-back series against the Texas teams with a Saturday night showdown against the pesky San Antonio Stars (6-21). After falling behind by as much as 18 points, Seattle battled its way back to force overtime, eventually losing 87-80. San Antonio showed why it has been trending in the right direction as of late. The Stars had 10 different players tally at least two points and got 25 points from its group of reserves. Breanna Stewart notched her second 30-point game of the season, finishing with a season-high 32. Jewell Loyd shot her way to 16 points, including the three ball that forced overtime with just over five seconds left. Sami Whitcomb topped double figures off the bench for the third time in her young career, accumulating 11 points, five rebounds, four assists and three steals. San Antonio built a 22-18 lead after 10 minutes, despite 10 points from Stewart. San Antonio scored the first seven points of the second until Sue Bird found a diving Alysha Clark for an easy lay-in at the cup. An end-of-the-shot-clock trey from Shay Murphy pushed the silver and black advantage to its highest point of the first half, 43-27. Loyd hit a three just before the buzzer to make the halftime score 48-36 San Antonio. Dearica Hamby scored 10 first half points off the bench, putting her behind only Plum's 13 in the first half scoring column. San Antonio was boosted greatly by seven offensive rebounds in the first 20 minutes. Stewart knocked in a midrange J at 5:32 in the third to give her 12 straight games with at least 20 points. Whitcomb provided a much-needed spark in the third quarter. At the end of three quarters, the Stars clung to a 63-55 edge. After a frenetic end to the fourth quarter, Loyd tied the game at 72 on a three pointer from the top of the key. San Antonio failed to score on its final possession of regulation, and the game pushed on into a five-minute overtime period. Whitcomb struck first in overtime by nailing a three to put Seattle in front 75-72, its first lead since being up 2-0. The scoreboard read 78-78 with two minutes remaining in overtime. Plum then sent home a momentous three to put San Antonio in the driver's seat. The Storm never recovered from there, as free throws helped San Antonio seal the deal and earn its first three-game winning streak since 2014.

PLAYER NOTES

PETERSON, MONTGOMERY HEAD WEST

In the 2017 WNBA Draft presented by State Farm, the Storm selected Alexis Peterson (15th pick, Syracuse) in the second round, followed by Lanay Montgomery (30th pick, West Virginia) in the third round. The all-time assist leader at Syracuse and reigning ACC Player of the Year, Peterson served as the floor general for the Orange, totaling 1,978 points and 590 assists to cap her career. Montgomery, a 6-5 center, averaged 10.6 points, 8.9 boards and 2.8 blocks per game on the way to leading the Mountaineers to their first Big 12 Tournament title.

ANYTHING YOU CAN DO...

Breanna Stewart notched 2016 WNBA Rookie of the Year honors to cap her inaugural professional campaign and help Seattle become the first franchise in league history to garner back-to-back Rookie of the Year honorees (Jewell Loyd, 2015). In addition to posting 12 double-doubles, Stewart averaged a team-high 18.3 points and 9.3 rebounds to carry the Storm to its first playoff appearance since 2013.

BIRD: FLYIN' UP THE RECORD BOOKS

In 2017, Sue Bird has already moved up two spots in the all-time rankings for points. With a 10-point performance at San Antonio on June 6, Bird passed Katie Douglas to climb to 10th, and she netted 11 at Indiana to pass DeLisha Milton-Jones to scoot to No. 9. She has 5,774 career points, needing 226 more to become the eighth player in WNBA history to eclipse the 6,000-point mark.

SEATTLE'S FG QUEEN

With a 3-for-10 effort at Los Angeles on July 25, Sue Bird became the all-time leader in franchise history in field goals made with 2,091, passing Lauren Jackson (2,090). Not only did Bird pass Jackson in the franchise rankings, she also passed the Aussie on the WNBA's all-time rankings, moving to No. 8.

ONE OF THE ALL-TIME BEST DISHIN' THE ROCK

At age 36, Sue Bird is just 26 assists shy of passing Ticha Penicheiro (2,599) on the WNBA all-time assist rankings. She boasts a 5.5 assist per game career average, sitting in second place on the all-time list. Bird led the league in dimes per game in 2016, dishing out 5.8 en route to the WNBA Peak Performer award in the category.

SHE'S A THIEF!

Now in her 16th season in the WNBA, Sue Bird is eighth in career steals with 606. She averages 1.3 steals per game for her career, which included one season missed due to injury. In eight of the 14 years she played, Bird recorded 1.4 or more steals per contest.

RK.	NAME	STEALS

SEATTLE ADDS A SWORD(S)

Seattle's frontline got a lot taller in late January thanks to the acquisition of 6-6 center Carolyn Swords. The Storm traded its sixth and 18th picks in the 2017 WNBA Draft with Washington to get the Boston College graduate out to Seattle. The Mystics, as part of the three-way swap, sent Kia Vaughn and Bria Hartley to New York. In her final season with the Liberty, Swords averaged a career-best 5.2 points and 4.6 rebounds per game while shooting 57 percent from the floor.

BACK FOR SECONDS

In 2016, Breanna Stewart simply shattered the Storm's all-time rookie records, and the New York native is poised to carry the momentum over to her sophomore campaign. The reigning WNBA Rookie of the Year and All-WNBA Second Team selection, Stewart set Storm rookie records for points (621), field goals (208), rebounds (317) and minutes (1,179), and she also tied the single-season block record with 64. Stewart scored 20+ points in 15 games, including a historic, single-record tally of 38 vs. Atlanta on June 28, 2016.

A SHINY, NEW JEWELL

Jewell Loyd's jump from her rookie campaign to year two in the WNBA paid dividends in Seattle's late-season push for its 11th playoff appearance in franchise history. Loyd's points-per-game average jumped 5.8 points (from 10.7 to 16.5), and she also nearly doubled her assist average to 3.4 per contest in 2016. Loyd's game-winner at Phoenix snapped a nine-game losing streak to the Mercury and gave Seattle its first win of the 2016 season, and she later netted a career-high 32 points in a 14-point win over the Mercury on June 3, 2016.

HOME, SWEET HOME

On Feb. 8, 2017, Seattle inked sharpshooter Sami Whitcomb to its training camp roster, allowing the former University of Washington standout to return to Seattle. With five years of international experience, Whitcomb has most recently played for the Perth Lynx in Australia, where she totaled 24.0 points, 5.4 rebounds and two assists per game. While playing for the Huskies during her college career, Whitcomb led the team in scoring (13.0 PPG), rebounds (5.6 RPG) and assists (2.5 APG).

STORM TRIO COLLECTS POSTSEASON AWARDS

Seattle boasted the most players on the 2016 All-WNBA First and Second Teams, highlighted by Sue Bird's first team recognition and recipient of the Peak Performer Award as the league leader in assists (5.8 per game). Breanna Stewart (18.3 PPG, 9.3 RPG) was named the 2016 Rookie of the Year, and both she and Jewell Loyd (16.5 PPG, 3.4 APG) earned second team recognition. Together, the trio accounted for nearly 59 percent of the team's offense and 66 percent of its team assists.

THE BIG 2-5

In the first three games of the 2017 campaign, Jewell Loyd recorded at least 25 points in each contest, all of which she accomplished on 55.6 percent shooting or better. She hit 10 field goals in each game, and on May 21 vs. Washington, she went 10-for-14 from the floor for a 71.4 percent clip. She now has seven 25-point games in 2017.

PLAYER NOTES

CRYSTAL CLEAR

Crystal Langhorne sits second all-time on the WNBA's field goal percentage charts. A career 57.2 percent shooter, Langhorne has led the Storm in scoring twice since joining the team and in consecutive seasons (2014, 2015).

RK.	NAME	FG%
1	Sylvia Fowles (MIN)	59.0
2	Crystal Langhorne (SEA)	57.2
3	Kiah Stokes (NYL)	57.0
4	Brittney Griner (PHO)	56.5
5	Alisa Buras (Ret.)	56.4

LOYD JOINS 1,000-POINT CLUB

On May 21 against Washington at KeyArena, Jewell Loyd scored her 1,000th-career point in just her third pro season. The bucket came amidst a furious Seattle run in the third quarter, as she nailed a step-back jumper with 31.9 seconds left. The former Notre Dame standout has simply changed the complexion of the Storm this season, averaging 26 points per game and shooting 60 percent (30-for-50) from the field.

RETURNING TO THE NEST

In her 16th season with the Storm, Sue Bird made her return to the lineup on May 21 against the Washington Mystics after missing the first two games of the season. A 2016 All-WNBA First Team selection, Bird picked up right where she left off from last season, tallying nine points and a game-high 10 assists in 29 minutes of action. At age 36, Bird is the oldest active player in the league.

EN FUEGO FROM THE GET-GO

For the sixth time in her career on June 13 against the Atlanta Dream, Jewell Loyd netted at least 15 first-half points, as she recorded 16 points in the opening 20 minutes. She's done it three times in 2017 - On May 21 vs. Washington, Loyd posted 17 points in 16 minutes on 6-for-8 shooting, including a 2-for-2 effort from downtown. In the season opener at Los Angeles on May 13, she scored 18 in the first half and finished the contest with a game-high 25 points.

MUST BE A NEW YORK THING

Two former UCONN standouts and New York natives in Sue Bird and Breanna Stewart teamed up for double-doubles in an eight-point Storm loss at New York on June 11. Bird earned her 22nd-career double-double with 21 points and 10 dimes, which were also season-high efforts for the 16-year veteran. Despite fouling out midway through the fourth quarter, Stewart notched 23 points and 10 rebounds in the losing effort.

STEWIE'S 20 & 10

Breanna Stewart has recorded seven games this season with at least 20 points and 10 rebounds, with her most recent performance coming on July 18 vs. Chicago, where she scored 25 points to go along with 11 rebounds. On July 1, she posted a 30-point, 10-board double-double at Dallas. As a rookie in 2016, Stewart eclipsed the 20-10 mark twice, and she now has 19 career double-doubles.

BIRD SHINES IN 10TH ALL-STAR GAME

Sue Bird was named to her 10th WNBA All-Star Game, tying the league record held by Tamika Catchings. Bird also received the honor of being named a starter in the game, which was the eighth time in her 16 seasons. Bird was a participant in the three-point shooting contest, which made a comeback for the first time in eight years. In the end, Bird dished out an All-Star record 11 assists on way to a 130-121 West victory.

STEWIE COMES IN CLUTCH

Breanna Stewart's late-game heroics were what ultimately sealed the deal for Seattle in its home-opening win vs. Indiana on May 14. Stewart grabbed a key offensive rebound before nailing the go-ahead three-pointer with 1:40 left to play, and she went on to drop a dime to Crystal Langhorne to make it a four-point game before coming up with a huge rejection at the 24.9 mark. Stewart battled through foul trouble and registered 15 points and seven rebounds.

WHITCOMB'S 15 MINUTES OF FAME

Prior to the May 26 meeting with New York, Sami Whitcomb had only seen action in a total of nine minutes. But Seattle needed the former University of Washington to defeat the Liberty, as she scored 22 second-half points to anchor a big Storm comeback from 10 down. Whitcomb buried six treys during that stretch, which tied a WNBA record for the most three's made by a player in one half.

LET ME LEND YOU A DIME

While Sue Bird is closing in on the all-time assist record in WNBA history, other Storm players like Jewell Loyd are eclipsing their own milestones. On June 6 in an 85-76 win over San Antonio, Loyd recorded a season-high six dimes, including assist No. 200 for her career, which she notched at the 9:07 mark of the third quarter on a pass to Breanna Stewart. Loyd also reached the 1,000-point milestone earlier this season on May 21.

LOYD'S 3-POINT REVOLUTION

It's no question that Jewell Loyd's shooting ability has improved significantly since her rookie season. In fact, it took just five games for the former Notre Dame superstar to surpass her three-point field goal total from her rookie campaign. In 2015, Loyd went 10-for-48 from deep for 20.8 percent. This season, she has made 43 treys from beyond the arc.

BIRD SKIES PAST TINA THOMPSON FOR THREE'S

With a 4-for-5 effort from downtown on June 11 at New York, Bird passed Tina Thompson, a former Storm player, to move to fourth all-time in the WNBA record books for treys made. Bird has gone 749-for-1,948 (38.4 percent) from beyond the arc during her career and needs 81 more three's to pass Becky Hammon in the No. 3 spot. Bird has been one of the most efficient outside shooters, hitting 38.4 percent of her three's, which ties for third all-time in WNBA history.

STEWIE STYMIES THE STARS

In a 75-57 win over San Antonio on June 18, Breanna Stewart took over in the second half, scoring eight straight points to help Seattle turn a six-point lead into a 15-point cushion. She finished with 22 points, as well as a season-high 15 rebounds and career-best five blocks. In the last five games, Stewart is averaging 21.2 points and 9.6 boards per affair. She's notched three double-doubles in 2017 and has 15 for her career.

MILESTONES IN THE LONE STAR STATE

In a win over Dallas Wings on July 1, both Sue Bird and Alysha Clark reached milestones. Bird dished out eight assists on the night on the way to notching her 2,500th-career dime midway through the second frame, while Clark joined the 1,000-point club with a trey in the first half. She is the second Storm player (Jewell Loyd) to reach 1,000 points for her career in 2017.

STEWIE MAKES ALL-STAR DEBUT

On July 18, Breanna Stewart was one of six reserves named to the Western Conference All-Star team. Stewart was also one of six reserves named as an All-Star for the first time. In her debut, Stewart came off the bench to notch nine points and six rebounds in 18 minutes of action. Stewart had been one of the most involved players in All-Star Weekend, attending the Seattle Mariners game before climbing atop the Space Needle to help raise the WNBA flag.

LANG'S HOT STREAK

Normally 3-for-3 or 4-for-4 shooting performances are often overlooked. But 9-for-9 and 5-for-5 shooting clips simply can't be ignored, which is what Crystal Langhorne achieved in two consecutive games against Connecticut and Atlanta. In a win over Atlanta on July 15, she shot 9-for-9 on the way to scoring a season-high 20 points, and she set a franchise record for the most makes without a miss. Her streak went on to reach 21 vs. Chicago before she finally missed in the second frame. Nneka Ogwumike's (Los Angeles) streak of 23 set between June 7-14 of 2016 tops the league.

THAT DIDN'T TAKE LONG

With a 23-point performance at Los Angeles on July 25, Breanna Stewart became the third Storm player to join the 1,000-point club this season. Jewell Loyd and Alysha Clark also achieved the feat this season. In just her 54th-career game, Stewart tied WNBA great Tamika Catchings for the fourth fastest in league history to achieve this feat.

A FLYING 'START'

On Aug. 8 at Connecticut, Sue Bird broke the WNBA's all-time career record for starts with 471. She passed former Storm forward Tina Thompson for most starts in WNBA history. Bird already holds the record for most games played, and she has never come off the bench during her career.

LANG BACK ON THE BLOCK

Crystal Langhorne collected career block No. 100 on Aug. 12 at Phoenix. She also had 19 points on 8-for-9 shooting and tied a career high with five dimes. Langhorne is in her 10th season in the WNBA, including her fourth go-around with the Storm.

EASY PICKINS FOR ALYSHA

On Aug. 16 in an upset win over Minnesota, Alysha Clark snagged her 100th-career takeaway in the 62-61 triumph. She also contributed seven points and seven rebounds in 31 minutes of action. Clark is in her sixth season out of Middle Tennessee State.

STEWIE NABS PLAYER OF THE WEEK HONOR

For the second time in her career, Breanna Stewart was named the WNBA's Western Conference Player of the Week, the league announced on July 17. Stewart helped the Storm (9-10) to a 1-1 record between July 10-16. After she posted 22 points and eight rebounds in a setback to Connecticut on July 12, Stewart anchored a second-half comeback vs. Atlanta, tallying 24 points, nine boards and a career-high six assists on the way to a 90-84 triumph at KeyArena on Saturday night. On the year, she is averaging 19.4 points and 8.9 rebounds per affair.

STEWIE: A PIECE OF WNBA HISTORY

After snagging at least seven rebounds on July 28 vs. Dallas, Breanna Stewart became the fastest player in the WNBA to reach 1,000 points and 500 rebounds. Stewart, the reigning WNBA Rookie of the Year and a 2016 Second-Team selection, reached the feat in only 55 games.

CRYSTAL HITS 4,000

After scoring five points at Connecticut on Aug. 8, 10-year veteran Crystal Langhorne surpassed the 4,000-point mark. Langhorne tallied her 4000th point at the 1.9 mark of the second quarter. Langhorne has scored her points with efficiency, boasting a 57.2 career field goal percentage.

TAK THE TALK

Ramu 'Tak' Tokashiki eclipsed the 500-point mark for her career on Aug. 12 at Phoenix. She scored five points off the bench on 2-for-5 shooting and added one block. In her third Storm season, Tokashiki has averaged 5.8 points for her career.

ON PACE FOR HISTORY

Crystal Langhorne is on pace for a historic season when it comes to field goal percentage. If Langhorne continues her 67.3 percent clip, it would be the best shooting percentage in league history. Tamika Raymond holds the current record – 66.8 percent in 2003.

TEAM NOTES

HOT FINISH TO 2016

The Storm won five of its last six to cap the regular season in 2016 and earn the No. 7 seed in the WNBA Playoffs, its 11th appearance in franchise history. Three of those triumphs came on the road, and Seattle won those five games by an average of 13.8 points. In Seattle's second to last home game, the Storm took down soon-to-be WNBA champion Los Angeles by an 18-point (78-60) margin, as Breanna Stewart led the way with her 15th 20+ point effort of the season. Seattle looked to ride the momentum of last year's finish and carry it over to this season, and the team did just that, notching its best start since the 2010 campaign, a year in which the team won its second WNBA title.

WELCOME HOME

Since its inaugural WNBA season in 2000, the Storm is 11-7 in home openers, including an 9-3 mark in its last 12. Seattle has faced Los Angeles in seven of the 16 home openers, going 3-4 in those games.

ROAD WARRIORS

Although five of Seattle's first six games in 2017 will take place inside the friendly confines of KeyArena, the Storm will face a brutal road slate in August that covers 21,374 miles across six road contests in five different states. Last season, the Storm dropped 10 of 13 road games before fighting back to win three of its last five.

TEMPERING THE FEVER

Seattle accomplished quite a few feats when it toppled Indiana by a 94-70 margin on May 28 at KeyArena. The Storm tied a franchise record for the best single-game field goal percentage (61.4), earned two wins vs. the Fever in Seattle for the first time in franchise history and tied a franchise record for the most points (94) scored against Indiana.

THE POWER OF THREE

In Seattle's 87-81 win over New York on May 26, the Storm matched a franchise high with 14 three-pointers on 14-for-28 shooting. Nine of those 14 came in the second half, as Sami Whitcomb came off the bench to net six treys, which tied a WNBA record for the most three's made in a half by a single player. The last time Seattle hit at least 14 treys came on Sept. 6, 2012 against Tulsa.

TAKING CARE OF THE ROCK

After committing 43 turnovers in its first two contests of the 2017 campaign, the Storm only averaged 12.3 in its next three home wins over Washington (May 21), New York (May 26) and Indiana (May 28). Coincidentally, Sue Bird made her return to the lineup when Seattle's miscues went down, showing just how important the 16-year veteran is to the team.

BEST START SINCE 2010

Seattle opened the 2017 campaign 4-1 to muster its best start since the 2010 campaign, the same year the team went on to win its second WNBA title. After losing at Los Angeles in the season opener on May 13, Seattle averaged 87.3 points in its next four victories.

STORM RANKED NINTH IN AP POWER POLL

STORM SPLITS WITH MERCURY IN PRESEASON

The Storm split its 2017 preseason slate with the Phoenix Mercury, notching a 22-point (86-64) win in Seattle on May 3 before dropping a 17-point (72-55) decision on the road. Jewell Loyd led Seattle offensively, averaging 13.5 points and shooting a perfect 10-for-10 from the free throw line. Adding a spark off the bench, Sami Whitcomb netted 27 total points in the two games, including six three's.

REACHING NEW HEIGHTS

The Storm's 86 total points in the preseason opener vs. Phoenix set a franchise record for the most points tallied in a preseason game. After leading by only eight (39-31) at halftime, Seattle shot 51.3 percent (20-for-39) in the second half and outscored the Mercury by 14 in the final 20 minutes to seal an 86-64 victory. Seattle improved to 19-25 in preseason games, including a 12-9 mark at KeyArena.

FREE POINTS MAKE A DIFFERENCE

If Seattle has proved anything thus far in 2017, it's that it can beat teams at the charity stripe. In the home opener vs. Indiana on May 14, the Storm outscored the Fever by 11 at the line. Freebees came up big two weeks later in a showdown with New York, as Seattle outscored the Liberty, 25-10, at the line to seal an 87-81 win. The Storm has shot a league-best 88.2 percent from the line in 2017.

BACK ABOVE .500

With an 81-71 win over Washington on May 21, the Storm moved above .500 for the first time since June 6, 2015. Seattle had posted losing records in both 2015 and 2016, and the Storm is currently four games below .500 with a 12-16 record.

TEAM NOTES

ANY GIVEN NIGHT...

If there's any indication about this Seattle team, it's that any player on the roster can explode on any given night. In a come-from-behind win over New York on May 26, Sami Whitcomb erupted for 22 points, all of which came in the second half. Alysha Clark scored a season-high 22 points in a 24-point win over Indiana on May 28. While she didn't earn game-high honors, Crystal Langhorne has booked two 17-point performances in 2017 and anchored the team twice, and Jewell Loyd has led the team in scoring 10 times. Breanna Stewart has also tallied team-high honors for points 15 times in 2017.

IT TAKES A TEAM EFFORT

In an 89-69 win at Dallas on July 1, the Seattle Storm tied a franchise high with 29 assists on the way to welcoming the new month with a win. Seattle hit 56.9 percent of its field goals, nailing 37 buckets out of 65 attempts - its second best shooting effort of the season. Sue Bird led the way with eight dimes, while Alysha Clark added five assists.

STORM'S DYNAMITE SECOND QUARTER

Despite dropping a 83-79 decision to Connecticut on July 12, Seattle posted the best second quarter in franchise history, tallying 33 points. Seattle shot 80 percent from the floor, 83.3 percent from three and 100 percent from the line in the second quarter, marking the 10th time in league history that a team has shot 80 percent from both the floor and from deep, and connected on a perfect 100 percent from the stripe in a single quarter.

UPENDING THE TOP-RANKED LYNX

Crystal Langhorne cleaned up the miss and scored the go-ahead bucket down the stretch, and the Seattle Storm mustered a huge 62-61 win over top-ranked Minnesota, who entered the affair with a 21-4 record. It was the Storm's first win against Minnesota in seven tries, snapping a six-game losing streak.

SETTING A STANDARD ON OFFENSE

As of Aug. 17, Seattle currently ranks in the top five in six statistical categories on the offensive end, including:

- #1 three's made per game (7.3)
- #2 field goal percentage (47.3)
- #3 three-point field goal percentage (36.6)
- #3 assists per game (19.5)
- #5 free throw percentage (80.6)
- #5 field goals made per game (29.6)

STORM SENDS SPARKS FLYING...AGAIN

On July 8, Seattle defeated defending WNBA champion Los Angeles at home for the fifth straight time, a winning streak dating back to 2015. Breanna Stewart and Jewell Loyd led the way with 26 and 22 points, respectively. The Storm posted 2-0 records at home vs. Los Angeles in both 2015 and 2016 and its win on Sept. 11, 2016 helped the team secure a spot in the 2016 WNBA Playoffs.

MAKE IT OR BREAK IT

In a 109-93 offensive thriller over Dallas on July 28, Seattle both broke a franchise record and tied two records in the win. The Storm shot 40-for-65 (61.5) on the way to breaking the record for single-game field goal percentage. Seattle bested its 61.4 clip, which it achieved on June 24, 2016 vs Connecticut. The home team also tied two records - the Storm dished out 29 assists, and the green and gold tied a record for the most field goals made (40).

GARY KLOPPENBURG BIOGRAPHY

WNBA Head Coaching Record: 22-48
Seattle Storm Head Coaching Record: 2-0
Seasons in the WNBA: 14th Season
Seasons with the Storm: Fourth Season

GARY KLOPPENBURG

Gary Kloppenburg was named Interim Head Coach of the Seattle Storm on August 10th, 2017.

Beginning his 14th season in the WNBA, Kloppenburg coached under Lin Dunn in Seattle (2000-02), spent 2003 with Phoenix, and resumed ties with Dunn in Indiana (2008-11) before embarking on his first head coaching role with Tulsa in 2012 and 2013. He was an assistant with the Los Angeles Sparks in 2014 and he joined Stephanie White's staff with the Indiana Fever in 2015.

Kloppenburg used his years of WNBA experience to net the Shock's head position, and helped a three-win Tulsa franchise improve to nine wins in 2012 and 11 in 2013. Prior to joining Dunn's staff with the Fever in 2008, he was on the staff of the NBA's Charlotte Bobcats, where he served under Bernie Bickerstaff for three seasons. Kloppenburg was hired by Bickerstaff when the Bobcats were founded in 2004 – continuing a family bond established when Bickerstaff was in college, and strengthened when Gary's father Bob coached in the NBA with Bickerstaff in Seattle and Denver.

Kloppenburg has coached at virtually every level of college and professional basketball, ranging from his beginnings at a California community college and intertwined with jobs in the NBA, WNBA, Continental Basketball Association and internationally. Prior to joining the Bobcats' staff as an assistant coach and advance scout, he was an assistant with the WNBA's Mercury for one season after three years with Dunn in Seattle. He worked for the NBA's Toronto Raptors from 1997-99 after two seasons as an assistant coach and assistant director of player personnel in the CBA – first with the Rockford Lightning and then for the Quad City Thunder. Kloppenburg was the interim head coach for four games in 1999-00 with Rockford where he coached former NBA star Earl Boykins.

In the summer of 1999, he was head coach for Panteras de Miranda of the Venezuelan Professional League, and he has conducted basketball clinics in Greece, Belgium, Iceland and Japan. After graduating from UC San Diego in 1981, his coaching career began at Lassen Community College (Calif.) where he had successful stints as head coach with both the men's and women's teams. He guided the women's team for five seasons before taking over the men's program for six.

Also fluent in Spanish, Kloppenburg was born Jan. 6, 1953, and has three children – Sonja, Ian and Carlotta. Carlotta, a former coaching intern with the Fever, played at Point Loma Nazarene College. Currently, she is the director of operations for the women's basketball program at Arizona State. competed in the U.S. Olympic Festival in 1993.
